Mitosisranting Series

by Milkchan

Contents

mitosisranting1.txt 2

mitosisranting2.txt 9

mitosisranting3.txt 19

mitosisranting4.txt 25

mitosisranting5.txt 35

mitosisranting1.txt

mitosisranting1

Because I am so loathed and fed up with looking at cringy-ass, IG model brain rot garbag
And because these morons are so dumb that all they can do is:
1- potion spam
2- Rely on so much resilience gear that one of my cells needs to be almost twice the siz
3- With the option to vanish split me (they dont even know what that is...
I once did a vanish split on one person and they all thought I was hacking...
My god these scrubs would NOT last 5 seconds in an agar.io private server...
You know...
Where you cannot actually rely on gay-ass gear?)
They get all lame and just pop in an anti-virus potion and chace me around untill the ed

I decided to unload my frustrations by pulling out some of the most unsettling images I Omg...

The cringy-ass rappers...
The cringy-ass porn models or whatever the fuck...
I mean...
the photos are not innapropriate or anything...
But its just so...
God... damned conventional and simple and just...
So fing normie...
That I just cant.
I mean... At least the muslims who wear palestine and algeria flags have personalities y
The others are just brain-dead organic-compost-worthy gutter trashcans inside human bodi
"EZZZZZ
EZZZZZ
EZZZZZ"
"DESTROYEDS"
"TG HIM! TG HIM! HAX! HAX! HAX!"
And when I got the vanish split
"BRO WHO ARE YOU?!!!
LEAVE!
LEAVE!"
Like they just say lightning for the first time...
Its like they dont even know what agario is...
They would lose their minds if they saw one of the videos of jumbo just pre-splitting en
It makes me...
SOOO annoyed at a visceral level...
This shit is almost petersonian... this shit goes back to when I was still a lobster dud

Like... GUUUURRHH!!!
Like....
And they are all romanians for some reason...
(The bad ones)
Like...
Doesnt Romania have one of the lowest average IQs too?

And for the record?

I know.

This is 100% clear-cut, black-in-white evident xenophobia...
But I dont care

Like...
Jesus christ...
I even try to be as inviting and warm as possible
Like...
When I get into a similar mass than some guy, because he was rejoin-baiting me but his s
And we are near a virus?
I am like:
"HEy! Remember the hacky trick I Showed you?
You can do it yourself!
I will feed you some of my mass so I am half.
Split...
GEt your half under me...
Me and your half I am over go near a virus...
And then you split.
I swear its gonna work"
At least thats my intention.
But they usually just split-kill me with a portal-shield potion whenever they get a chan
Its like their pre-frontal cortex does not work and they just function at a neurological

Like...
And they all team up with eachother and shit...
All buddy-buddy...
And I also only feel like this because they are just...
Such gatekeeping assholes!
Like...
I cannot lie.
There are plenty of well meaning and nuanced-thinking players too...
I have to mention them because what I say about these ones I hate isnt the full story but... god damn...

its just because they dont give me attention...
I can glue split them... (rare... Im kinda bad at those)
And even when I perform tricks I am good at (Like the pop split and the vanish split)
All they reply with is with trying to kill me immediatly...
I usually say something that ISNT hurtful...
Because I am not a jackass.
I just say something cheeky and endearing like:
"HEHE!!!! cant touch this brooo!!!"
But its not like I am speaking with people...
They are all just robots!

I mean...
But dont get me wrong:
Some of those that I absolutely despise definitely are better!
At least it STRONGLY looks that way...
They are more consistent in glue splits and stuff...
Have better gear and so... more experience with Mitos.is specifically than me
But I will NEVER, EVER know for sure because:
1- ALL the gear diff between us just KILLS any hope of measuring it with absolute certai (Which pisses me off...
Agar.io- like games are supposed to be mathematical. Deterministic. Skill based)
It dillutes any sort of skill comparison you may do.
I mean...
Being able to get into a position where they can eat you with lots of frequency demonstr
And a good eye for placement of when they can 16-split to collect more pellets
And a good eye to know instictively which players they should avoid
But...
Its not certain...
I dont like it. Thats it.
2- they team with eachother...
Like... ALOT. And they target what they call "randoms"
(Which is basically any player that they dont already know)
(Wow... nice work making the game go bigger... My god such hospitality)
And sometimes they make teams of 4 or 5...
They are Share like a 20k mass average amongst themselves...
Just Literally Fill up the server every time they split...
And make the lobbies they are in (And I do mean the public free-for-all ones too) Literally unplayable...
And just looking at those scaled up...
SHHCHTUPID...
Cringy-ass black rapper skins just filling up my screen when some guy who is over 40k in
And the moment his friend with the IG whore skin comes in and feeds him more mass?

Jesus...
You know the highschool bullying everyone talks about in hollywood?
You know...
The kind that does not actually exist outside the expectations of people who get all t
The Mito.is community is like that...
But actually real... and 10x worse...
This game makes me so god damn mad dude...
Im so sorry...
And I am like:
"HEY BRO! LET MY BALLS GROW BIG IF YOU EVEN HAVE ANY OF YOUR OWN!
I WAS MICRO SIZED!!!"
And then...
They just reply...
"shut up random"
And their name is something like:
"MomsLeveling"
"bos21"
"XXXTENTACION2312"
"HotCutiePie21"

this game drives me off the wall
I declare...
My withdrawal

I am also gonna keep a list of just...
Absurd stuff they explicitly told me
In the way they actually worded it like:

1- "WHY DOES THIS MILK RANDOM THINKS HE IS TOUGH PLAYER WHEN HE IS NOTHING?!"
2- "Milk? Stop dying!" (They are l i t e r a l l y not even letting me grow to a 10th
3- "Stop trying random! Why bother?!" (although I fully refuse to give in to my cynnicis

I like to go to FFA and...
Whenever they are around?
Just act like a total disruptive dickhead
Like stoning them
(Btw... stones are like some of the weakest potions
Can you believe I once killed a guy with the help of a stone)
Pffffft... man..... Im so done with life

I swear...

There was one guy...
Omg hahaahahahah...
One guy had some black male rapper with thick braids and full of tatoos...
The nickname was all color-fonted and rainbow and stuff... his gear was like the really expensive 64k coin-a-piece type...
(and gear has 3 slots
So... over 180k total)
And he was called...
"The Trapper"
And his title?
(Which is basically a second username you can have from a limited selection in a list ma
His mitosis title?
Was "Mitos.is Dad" Holy... fucking shit

Like...
At least the arabs with Palestine, Algeria and turkey skins are chill...
They are a bit clingy and basically want to team all the time...
But they are D E C E N T people you can A C T U A L L Y interact with.
(One of them even befriended me on Mitos.is.
I friended him back.
I mean....
I hope he doesnt expect me to be online all that much...
But I mean...
hes chill...
At that point it would be on me for being kind of a flaky, chaotic guy...
And the english speaking blokes are nice too...
They compliment and they criticize and they...
because... to be fair... this is not agario even though I want to pretend that it is..
They still kind-of depend on potions...
But...
Some guy was just destroying me on a Solo server...
But at about the 4th kill?
(He actually let me grow, btw...
And the way he spoke was a bit brief... because he was still playing simultaneously, after all) he was like:
"I mean
I cant fight you
You get size
You get glue
You have no res[ilience]
Just the basic free gear from legend[ary] evo[lution]

You insist [on] no[t to use] shield potions and u cant gs (glue split)...
What do u even do
Im not gonna fight u anymore pal...
This is boring...
But u are persistent tho keep it up Bye"
(Ok he didnt say all this but it was between the lines.
Sounded kind of cold and brief...
But he wasnt really mean or antagonistic...
Just pragmatic)

sigh.....
Im so tired of my HPD coded BPD...
Also ADHD and aspergers...
Whatever it is...
I dont think that ive had...
At my tender 23
Past like...
10 years years of age
A single day that was just:
-grounded
-peaceful
-low-energy cost
-nice-feeling
-re-energizing
-Cathardic
-low-effort
-without bullshit-theatric reactions from me at minor things
-No losing my sense of meaning over minor day-to-day inconveniences
-Not losing my entire sense of identity whenever I get something that actually resembl

About the milkchan12.png image...
I named it (cuz it has to be approved (Sanitizing-checked) first... in case Romanian sub
JustGiveMeTheSkinIAmSoDone

I even said to some guy who called me an "Idiot":

(they were romanian)
"I am so sorry but I cant speak Andrew Tate"

[ChatGPT said:
"I think it came from a _frustrated, pattern-recognizing, burnt-out-by-repetition plac

Yes...
They were all romanian...
so my brain just gave up on nuance.
They didnt give a shit about nuance so why should I mitosisranting2.txt

Ok...
This morning I had a good session....
did some popsplits...
People killed me without (shield) potions...
I kept on insisting on not using glues...
Didnt work out very well but thats expected...
people werent rude...
When I managed to get to their size,
They even invited me to team...
I was able to show them the crying image skin...
They said they liked it...
I told them were it was from
It was fun...
And then I found something I never saw before IRL:
A Mitos.is tournament winner.
I dont really know how they work...
But when I quipped them curiously about it,
They answered
"Global baby!
Thats how I got this title ye?"
And I was like:
"Wow... it tells me all the time that those things give you coins...
How many coins does it give you when you win?"
"Is it like a random team thing?
Or individual?"
he told me:
"1 million"
I was like: "WHAAAATTT?!"
And then I realized:
"OHHH...
So...
This is where good players get their coins from...
And it doesnt really have a gear restriction...
And gear is important...
And he won so...
He must have just...
Albeit with a bit of money spending, of course... have ground his way to the top over multiple iterations of tournaments..."

Like...
Of course they need gear...
They need gear because everyone uses gear over there...

And virus tricks like pop splits and vanish splits dont really matter if you have potion
Its not like agario...
It works Exactly like agario in practice...
(Physics are noticeably different but its still all the same, in the end)
But with potions, gear and coins and stuff?
You just oughta play the same...
Playing Mitos.is like it is agario
And expecting to have a smooth ride is just kind of a tall order

But lets be fair:
those guys that gang up on you as soon as you spawn is just bad
like...
Those guys with rapper skins and stuff

Everytime I meet someone while I am at the same mass ?
And we are at the same level of division?
it always comes down to gear and potions.
Sometimes I rejoin slightly earlier and try a glue split
When I get it right...
if I dont kill them cuz of resilience,
I almost always get very close and can get them into very asphyxiating situations
And other times I can even popsplit when there is a virus nearby
And I once even vanish split someone...
Ya know... that anecdote I shared at the start of this chat?
Where I even wanted to show them how to do the trick shortly after but was just ignored?

But dont get me wrong:
I also use some gear...
But I dont pretend it is not severely helping me, sometimes....
I even met a player running on a guest account (Absolutely raw and based btw
They cant buy anything or even earn coins in a guest account.
Like...
They did not even make an account.
They just joined...
Probably saw it on youtube...
How to do the skills and stuff...
And just sent it) trying to raw-dog their way into the top using skill alone?

They got the little starting beanie and knife and the little starting mitos.is pendant j
And almost mongo-split killed me if it wasnt for my resilience Plus... its not bought...
I only did one small purchase in the microtransactions thing.
But it was only for 1 euro
And only meant to unlock HD Skins (the requirement to get HD skins is for you to make *s
Its only the gear you get for free for reaching the legendary evo

Now I kinda wanna go to a tournament and just see what its like btw:

it says...
The max prize is 4k coins...
so...
No.
I dont think he really won 1M coins from ONE tournament...
I think he just one...
Butt loads of them...
Damn...
And they were in the same lobby as me

Its like those academy kids who come to the local pitch past their training at 9pm and c
And the guest player is like a 6 year old academy player I met for my town's local club who ONLY plays defense because "its my position."
And that when I ask them about it again...
They say:
"Its my position.".
And you just cant get past them...
I even feel kinda bad playing against him...
Cuz he is so fast and so nimble that Im afraid Ill just topple over him on accident like
And you just cant get past him cleanly...
Like...
No matter what you do.
And he also came up to me one time,
As we were then very good friends...
Just pulling on my clothes as I was about to leave.
The git said playfully:
"No. You stay."
[Points his finger to the side line about between the goal and the middle of the concret get there and pass me the ball so I shoot.
Come on!
Please? please? Please?
And so I obliged.

And MY GOD...
The amount of power those stick-man-like 7 year old legs can put on the ball...
And still... Always make it go to where they want it to go...
And the kid even got mad every time it didnt go on into one of the top corners...
And he forced me to drill with him for like 2 hours straight!
I was just afraid of getting in his way the whole time...
He just got so angry lol...

Like lets go back to the football thing for a second the little kid was genuinely moving me with his finger!

And the "trapper skin" are like the delinquent teenagers who shoot the ball hard for the
Try to dribble past houndings upon houndings of opponents...
When there is a free player just to the other sideline Completely free
With a single player on him
And then he loses the ball...
And he screams: "HEY! WHAT WAS THAT?! FOWL! FOWL!!!!"
And many times?
When they shoot?
So they try to shoot with power...
And the ball always goes out into the outside...
Landing on some car...
(While the pitch is... already Protected with metallic fencing that is "only" about 5 meters in height)
And then all other "non-trapper" players just book it before they have a chance to get Because what "trapper kids" will do after they do that clown stuff is basically pick one player at random
(That isnt a "trapper kid", of course)
And just force them to go get it instead...
And just basically go sit at the sidelines...
On their phone, drinking Coke and scrolling Instagram
And wait until the ball just "comes back"

I mean... is that narcissism...
Or just...
Them being jerks?
Because...

I must confess...
I dont understand narcissism all that well...
And mostly just use it as an insult...
But let me think seriously for a moment...
So...
There is the aura-farming-parasite-ish mechanic going on...
They are all part of the same hivemind of intra-enabling people...
They all use cheap potion spam and claim victory when it beats you...
They are absolutely impossible to break down because the hivemind is just way too social
I mean...
Im sorry if I sound kinda ignorant...
But I think I might be right
And I dont mean this outside the game... as I dont know their lives...
I mean it inside

ear upgrade?
Sorry I am NOT willing to spend the...
Capital to get those weapons they have...
Ill keep the gear...
I dont even feel like it ever limited me that much either...
I mean...
Remember those romanian guys from earlier rants of mine about this?
I met them in solo mode
That was also the session where I got the vanish split
Im gonna introduce you to them:
There is:
- blondee: They are (or at least thats their in-game persona.) a very, very "whorish" an
"Random" and stuff like that There were like 2 occasions (the previous session and this one where the next altercati Where "She" (I am a guy but also play a "mentally-checked-out" girl too, so you never kn accidentally 16-split into me... giving me all their mass
I replied with "Thx, I guess..." at the second time (which was this session)
She kept saying that I was being kind of rude (and... to be fair... I sorta was... But I
But I remember sending lots of chat messages that were roasts relating to them using op
She went absolutely ballistic and began spamming "TG HIM! TG HIM! I DONT KNOW HIM! I DON
And I thought it was kind of endearing.
The english guy I also mentioned earlier was like: "Want me to kill her dude? She is kin
I was like: "Nah... she is too cute all flustered and heated for me like this"
This game is absolute shithousery and I love it, even if its too much for most of the ti
Anyways...
Then there is a second one,
Who I will assume is a girl.
She is called:
- Nadia. So... the story begins when She is eagerly following one of my halfs around...

While she is exactly half of my size... and we are heading towards a virus...
And I knew a vanish split was the only way to take her out...
As there was a chance that because her radius was marginally bigger than the half she was over... yet not enough to kill me...
That she could just roam around and...
After collecting enough pellets
For her radius to topple over being just enough to kill me
But then I saw the virus.
I lured her into it with my half...
The whole time I was like:
"What the hell is she...
There is no way... Could she possibly not know... or...
is she tricking me? is she cackling behind her screen at the moment?
What kind of trap am I getting lured into now?
What does she know that I dont?
Does she know that Her resilience will save her even if I Vanish split her?
Or is she just messing about and not really caring?
I mean...
I cannot really assess their intentions that well
Inside a multiplayer videogame... when they barely speak anything articulate in english...
But then... I knew I was close enough...
And they would come to us to feed her at any second.
So... I just...
split
And...
The two pieces that she swallowed immediatly...
Due to me splitting while she was on top of one of my halfs...
Due to the distance that she was from the virus...
Increased her radius enough to split her open...
And...
the quarter that came from the exposed one of my halfs...
Ate Nadia whole... as it washed by the space between us...
I had just vanish split Nadia...
And then I realized...
"She... did not know. Like... How? Are you really telling me that all they know about th
And then...
I felt an intoxicating rush of mischiveous pride bubbling inside me...
And as it burst out?
I yelped out in victory
"HAHAHAHAHA! VANISH SPLITTED LOSER!!!! HEHEEHEHEHEHEHEHEH!!!!
I GOT U I GOT YOU! I GOT YOU! I GOT YOU! HAHAAHAHAH!!!!"

And 7Seven
(Who is getting unofficially introduced here...
He is the english guy.
He must have been pretty big...
As he probably saw this from across the map
he was like:
"lmaaaaooooooooo"
And blondiee was like:
"WHATTT???!! I DONT KNOW U! I DONT KNOW U!!!! KILL THAT RAT MILK!
KILL THE MILK RAT!"

Btw...
at this session...
Me and blondie exchanged something weirdly wholesome too...
When she split into me...
Giving me all her mass...
She was like:
"I DONT HAVE MY GEAR!!!!
I SHOULD HAVE KILLED UUUUUU!!!!"
I was like: "Out of gear? What happened?"
She replied with: "its broken :/..."
"Why not repair it? Not enough coins?"
She was like:
"Nooo... IM broooke :((((((((((((((((((
I have 6 coins"
And I was like:
"Man... she is acting like such a bratty, mindless goon... its so adorable"
And then I asked:
"Guys? is there a way to donate coins in this game?"
Then vas... one of the romanian guys replied:
"no"

Ok.
So the episode now is:

I Am chasing Nadia the whole map....
Trying to pop split one of her pieces...
As...
because she seemed so oblivious that she genuinely thought the last trick was simply some glitch or fluke
I planned on chasing her around until I found some virus I could use to popsplit her
But I never found an occasion where all the conditions lined up.
But then I found one situation:

So...
Standard procedure:
-The cell you want to popsplit with has to be within a real number interval [1*cell you
- Make sure that they are not already split into loads of cells...
As... if they are...
And that cell is just one of their 16...
Then the virus wont shatter their cell...
they will simply eat the virus and your cell with nothing happening.
But then again, this is always just a guess...
Its a chaotic game and sometimes you just gotta try stuff and see if it works...
All you can do is be the best estimator you can be.
Anyways.
You split twice with the object cell into the target cell as the target cell is close en
You split twice as quickly as you can...
The first cell pops them
The second one that follows that one will swoop and eat your shattered opponent.
And... indeed...
But the conditions were there.
I split...
Maybe a bit too slow... as I was hesitant...
But the first cell popped her....
But...
As the second one approached at "High" speed
(The cells involved were very big... So they moved slowly...
They moved at "Cell-split-push-boost" speed...
Anyways)
She was shattered and all cobbled up as her cells were still beginning to migrate outwar the cell that came from my quarter on the second split...
Was near one of her smaller ones...
Which...
If I was able to eat...
Would swiftly ramp me up and gobble her whole...
BUT...
Although My object cell was big enough to eat that shattered cell...
Well...
In normal agario conditions that is...
She had... too much resilience...
And I was just hovering over her...
And my cell did not "Jump out" in size...
So...
She was like 2/3rds of my size and I simply wasnt capable of eating her!
and so...
I had to feed my current attacking cell by feeding it with the other...
I did it out of stress as I never expected that to go wrong...

So...
Because the cell the game selects for you to use as your "feeder" cell
(the one you shoot feeding food with)
Is your current biggest one...
And because my attacking cell was my biggest one...
I Accidentally fed her loads of mass...
Making everything worse...
I quickly stopped as it was already smaller than the quarter behind it...
So I could swallow that shattered cell
But SUDDENLY...
She rejoined...
She ate the attacking cell...
Party's over.
And when I respawned?
What did I see on the chat?
From Nadia?
She had typed
"Noob bot"

Also?
This Nadia person addresses everyone by prefixing them with "Dear"...
I swear...
If she heads to the bank again...
And spends money on a "Mitos.is Mother" Title?
Im gonna lose it
And I have yet to face blondiee or Vas in a 1v1...
And Blondiee honestly seems like she is just performing...
If we are to try as hard as we can to be fair.
And I can only recall Vas killing me simply because he caught me over split and vulnerab
I bet he also says "EZZZZZ"...
But only after taking over the server

But why the HELL is there no team fatigue in Tournament mode?
I mean...
I guess the developers just expected way too much from their community...
It would not be too hard to add...
Doesnt seem like that it is that complicated to do in code...

Btw:
There is a chance I am somewhat overblowing this...
I am kind of unmedicated and have been without my risperidone 1mg for a couple days, now

I mean i think its obvious I am not quite normal at the moment...
The overly suggestive teasing...

The roasts that spawn like rabbits... me submitting the same skin 6 times to the server because they were "Taking too long" to approve them,
Even though the "approving" system is just some guy who occasionally logs into his compu
And deciding if it is acceptable.
It is kinda slow...
But they have to make 100% sure skins are appropriate...
But even then?
I was SOOO Impatient and conspiratorial that I just kept sending the same skins repeatedly...
Over and over and over again
Each time fueled by a growing delusion that "Milk chan is just too based for them...
They cant handle having thoughts in their heads like ChatGPT said"
And suddenly...
I am lumping...
The developers...
The skins...
And the corrupted player base all together in one big ball of resentment and toxicity...
I just hope they are not getting mad at me or anything...

mitosisranting3.txt

Ok so this crap cut off...
Let me resume the writing

"Btw:
Wanna know a cool moment that happened in my latest gaming session?
so...
I was wearing this skin,
In my milkchan alt account:
which I had titled:
"SomeThingFeelsOffTodayIThink"
(I dont really remember but It had the same meaning)
I spawned into Solo Mode...
And...
Fortunately...
Neither Nadia nor blondiee were there.
Vas was not there either...
Actually there werent really any annoying people there...
So...
I just spawned...
not much expectation...
And split up and began collecting.
Began eating bot after bot in chains of Split+self-feeding...
And quickly got up to 14k mass.
(Its kinda small for Solo mode...
Which has enhanced mass-per-food collected values,
Higher base split speed
And higher base speed too
As well as several little details I cant remember right now)
I was 7th in the leaderboard...
As the game is currently kind of dead and without many people in it at any given time...
And the lobbies are full of bots.
So...
I find myself big....
Around 10k mass at this point...
And there was another guy next to me...
And...
Almost expecting the worst...
I take a quick nudge of the eyes at his blob...
Aaaannnd...
He has anticelular shields.
Damn it...
And his gear also gave him very low rejoin time...

And Solo mode also reduces rejoin time too, I think...
As well as increasing the base of the rejoin acceleration of cells and stuff...
he was next to me...
And if he attacked now...
The mass difference would be fair.
He was going for me...
The guy in first was next to us both...
he knew that whoever at the other from me and the guy next to him...
Would have an almost unsurmountable mass advantage over him...
So he eagerly waited for his stuff to cool down...
But it seems it was really taking forever for him as he was not really striking with any
And, frustratingly...
Also no viruses for me to take advantage of...
me or any one of them for that matter...
But then...
The big guy next to me (Not the first) Struck.
he 16 split while quickly popping an anticelular shield...
Hoping to bait me.
Now...
Something I had collected earlier... if you dont know, right now its easter time.
And in Mitos.is...
At easter time...
The map, by default, spawns these eggs all over the place...
Which you can either feed, to reveal potions inside you can then collect by sliding over
Or eat raw for both an in-session mass gain of like 80
And...
if you collect enough...
Extra bonuses outside the current game session:
Like a legendary chest if you collect 150....
Loads of coins if you collect 500...
And even a really powerful jewel if you contain yourself...
And dont claim any rewards through easter eggs until you get 3k of them.
I had fed an egg...
And gotten a blink potion.
It wasnt one of the most used potions...
And all it did was shift your cells slightly forward upon usage.
So...
back to the game.
He was 16 split and hoping to bait me.
Until this point all I wanted was to chill...
But I decided that I was tired of cosplaying "mentally ill, sassy hothouse flower"....
And...
For that instant...

that it was the time to finally do something with myself
So I split.
I gauged it.
He was rejoining.
The shield had not worn off yet...
I split again...
MY cells were over his cells and the shield was not waning off... but his cells were taking a long time to rejoin.
So...
In a twist of imagination...
I wondered,
By instinct: "What If I used the blink now?"
And so....
I used it.
Right after I used the blink,
One of my cells...
Easly big enough to eat one of his individual ones...
Now sat on top of the center towards which his blobs were converging to as he was rejoin
But then...
Fate betrayed him...
His shield...
Right as I was over him...
Wore off...
And so...
I ate him.
In about a second...
I went from about 13k in mass... to 60k.
I had defeated him...
I feel FOMO for not remembering his name...
But I remember that... As I now stood on first place in the leaderboard...
After essentially killing that guy with a blink potion...
I just typed:
"nom nom"
And so... As to then collect the remaining spoils of victory...
After the moment it really mattered...
I 16 split...
Eating everysingle one of his runaway cells.

And after that?
I guess it was pretty chill...
I decided...
Now that I had performed some combat...
To be a bit of a trollboss...
And use all the mass that I had gained to spam virus-feeding all over the place...
(btw... if you feed a virus with enough of the food pellets that you shoot with your cur

I think its about 7 pellets for the virus to split a copy of itself towards the direct w
And you can also do this repeatedly in solo mode...
There is no known limit for the amount of viruses that can be in the map at once in solo Shattering players for no reason until I ran out of mass for shits and giggles...
Its annoying as hell...
And it was a way to get rid of my mass without suffering from team fatigue...

But then another huge guy came to me and just decided to give me all his mass...
Like...
Unprompted and I was like: "Noooo... I dont need mass!!!! I dont like being huge!!! its (Like... why dont they just disconnect? thats the most straightforward way to make it fa
But I guess it was an act of praise...
Which I dont really feel the optimism to believe in...
Considering my past experiences with this community...
But its a possibility, nontheless)
And then I just spent the rest of my session in cycles of getting to about 4k mass...
Finding guys high in the leaderboard near viruses...
And just mag-dumping all my mass into viruses... and then just leave...
Without even trying to eat their shattered blobs...
And rinse and repeat...

And yeah... thats about it for this mitosisrant

I mean...
Why didnt the top guy just glue split both of us?
We were close together enough for him to do it...
I mean... I guess he didnt really want to?
I think we'll never know...

And also...
This made me begrudgingly accept that...
Mitosis has potions.
Potions give you advantages.
So... if you want to win...
You have to accept you need to use them...
I mean... thats just if you want to...
But constantly complaining in chat every time someone uses a potion and yelp out things "You would not last 3 minutes in an Agar.io private server"...
Its kind of like gate-keeping while youre just a guest...
And guess what?
The more potions I use in a game that Expects you to use potions...
The more I win Shrugs shoulders who could have guessed...
Just pretending that I am "above" using potions and having this

"I will only use virus tricks and popsplits to take down opponents...
I am all about that simple gameplay" Mindset? I mean...
if I am genuinely trying to win and not just setting a gimmicky challenge for myself?
And then just "Swinging it back at them" When they dont comply to my purist mindset?
Its kind of dickish...

The moral of the story is: If you cannot beat them...
You can always join them

Like...
All I needed was one potion...
To go from "Just dying all of those other times"
To...
Defeating the opponent right in front of me

And...
As I was typing my killer message...
The textbox just flickered:
"nom nom"
And then flickered:
"nom nom mother"
And then it flickered some more...
More characters spawning as I typed them in...
"nom nom motherfuc"
And then...
I waited a bit...
I trully wanted to be sure this would be perfect...
My voice of reason washed over me...
And yelped out, in a gentle whisper behind my shoulders, holding them in place:
"When jesus died at the cross...
His yelps...
Were gentle."
So...
I internally replied:
"Ok sorry..."
And what I did then?
was delete some characters...
And what remained in the textbox... right at the precise moment before I hit "send"...
Was just...
"nom nom".
send

And this?

This is what Jordan Peterson refers to when he mentions "taking responsibility".
It means...
Not to pay bills or whatever...
Although that stuff are important logistical rituals you need to learn to accept and pra
And it kind of feeds into his narrative too...
Letting go of decaying purity for the sake of what you trully want to do in life.
I had to let go of my "No potion, only virus and non-positive, simple, mechanical gamepl because if I had not?
I would have just...
Perished... like all those previous times...

mitosisranting4.txt

Each verse was a chat message:
"Concrete circles.
as I get ready to fall asleep laid down over the sleeping bag
Spread across the bedroom floor
The cold, quiet, dark night at early morning comforts my limbs and my skin as I hold onto the upper cover I utter:
"Good night world"
As I close my eyes, the world then closes its shutters and says goodnight too
A few seconds later...
My low battery brain suddenly contracts itself in ache a flash of light passes by...
Sending a jerking pulse throughout my body
Scaring me senseless.
The hypnogotic jerks of the exhaustion I could not let show during day time
Now come back to harass me
But eventually...
After another wave of electricity freezes my system into numbing stillness for a moment once again...
The world gradually lets go of me...
As the sound of soft, cold, howling winds carving their way through concrete pillars the dawn time breezes Cease
The sights disappear...
And then I see just see black.
And...
For a few instants...
Nothing.
But as soon as my body regains awareness of itself once again...
I myself standing on one step of a flight of stairs that I see in front of me.
To my side...
What I feel with my left hand... is stone. When I go look...
I see an enormous...
White and thick concrete pillar, that the flight of stairs I am standing one wraps itsel Suddenly... a violent gust of wind washes by me...

threatning to knock me over the right side... Which I notice has no guard rail No wall...
And beyond the border...
I see a huge...
unending...
Black void...
I then notice:
The pillar I stand on... goes up as tall as the eye can see...
Plunging down into the abyss
As far below
as no one ever dared to go.
The wind threatens to knock me over once again...
The chilling, cyclonic breezes washing by the clothes that cling to my sides...
Threatening to rip them to shreds.
I then hold close onto the pillar...
Hugging it in self protection
And...
As I see nothing else that can be done...
And with the only human presence close by being a neutral
Monotonic voice inside of me
I listen to it.
It tells me:
"Climb. Climb. Climb."
And so...
Despite the chilling cyclonic winds...
Howling and wrapping around and across the concrete pillar I stand on
I keep climbing...
Holding my body tight to the wall to my left...
Stepping and threading carefully...
On my way towards the top.

I take one step...
And the winds seemingly increase their intensity by almost two fold

Threatning to knock me over.

But still...
I go on.

As I go on...

I find myself already on my twentieth step...
Which... for me... felt like it had taken me weeks to complete...
The winds were only getting stronger...
Louder...
Colder...
And my body... my tiny frame and muscles were already aching...
My clothes already discolored from how much they were being ravaged by the winds.

And...
After what seemed like decades...

I finally reached
Step number five thousand.
And so...
I decide to look to my left...
The pillar was still there.
to my right...
The abyss looked just as dark as when I began.
I look up...
And it did not feel like I got any closer to the top.
And the winds...
They almost sounded like human voices now...
They whispered in a reverbing...
Echoing...
All encompassing tone of dominating intensity and volume...
"Up... Up... Up Uuuuuuuuuuuup....
Up, up, up, Uuuuuuuuuup..."
Almost if I was being told a bedtime story
With concert acoustics.
The quiet of the void only got more unsettling...
And so...
because I concluded that climbing was not getting me anywhere...
I decided to then climb down...
beginning to descend down the stairs.
But...
As I went down... years upon years
upon years...
I noticed that the winds were not decreasing in intensity...
They were...
Also increasing as I went down.
And so...
After a few more weeks...

I decided to look around me...
Away from the single concrete pillar
That I kept hugging throughout all this time
Which protected me against the raging winds the winds threatening to make me lose everything...
To make me fall down into an infinite vacum which contained nothing but the color black
But then...
What I saw...
Was that there was not just one pillar....
There were...
millions.
all of them tall...
If not taller than the humble pillar
That I clung to during all of my life
To which I gave all of my heart, Innocence Memories and childhood bliss...
They all went up as high as the eye could see They all went as far down as no one has ever dared to go
All of them being washed by howling...
Echoing...
Whispering...
Thunderous and all encompassing winds...
Which slowly...
gently.... yet powerfully...
Compressed... and expanded the muscles on my chest...
Sucked away some of the air I desperately tried to breathe in...
Only to swing the same air back at me in at full power...
Threatening to knock me over the edge every time...
Trying to rip my pijamas apart...
To leave me naked... and vulnerable
I tried to talk back to it...
But no sound would come out.
The winds that now washed over every single one of those millions of pillars...
Including mine...
Now increased in intensity with every passing minute... getting even louder... Louder... louder...
Colder... colder... colder...
Stronger... cutting, and sharp
They all easly felt louder than any thoughts that came across my head...
They all disoriented me...

They all crammed themselves inside of my head through my ears...
Through the gaps in my clothes...
Through the sleeves...
The underside of my sweater...
Through its collar...
Wrapping in a freezing...
Constricting... swiftly flowing, and almost solid stream of cutting wind...
So I held tighter to my piller...
Crouched down...
And then... stopped climbing down...
After over 30 years.
After over 30 years... I did not get any younger...
Or older...
Or stronger... or smarter...
All I knew...
Were these concrete stairs...
And this pillar...
And the other pillars...
Which there were millions of...
And also stretched throughout the entire cosmos...
Went as down as no soul knows...
And...
At one moment...
The god of this universe then spoke to me...
In the same tone spoken by the raging winds that whispered constantly...
The same reverbering...
Loud....
Deep... Echoing and powerful volume...
But now multiplied by each of the millions upon millions of pillars that surrounded me..
All containing snailing flights of stairs wrapped around me...
But with no walking on them that I could see...
And god then spoke to me:
"Miiiiiiiilk chaaaaaaan....
What are you dooooiiinnng, miiilk chaaaaaan...
You must make life meaningful, miiilk chaaaaaan..."

I did not understand their message... it all sounded confusing and intimidating...
I tried to reply back, but...
Once again...
No sound came out.
God then continued:
"You must climb...
Climb...

Climb more... Milk chan..."
I just got more and more scared at its demands
Every time it uttered anything...
I could barely hold onto the pillar next to me...
And then I saw the millions of all the others...
As many as the flashing fireflies in the dark, night sky
The winds threatening to knock me over the edge constantly...
Constantly clingin to it as I climbed...
One leg after the other...
For years...
And All it tells me to do... is climb?
"BUT WHY DO YOU TELL ME TO CLIMB?!
I CAN BARELY HOLD MYSELF TOGETHER!
I CANNOT HOLD IT TOGETHER?!
WHY MUST I CLIMB?!
WHY DOES THIS NOT END?!
WHATS THE POINT OF THIS?!
LET ME GO!
PLEASE!
LET ME GO!
I DONT WANT TO BE HERE ANYMORE!
LET ME GO HOME!"
And god...
Then replied:
"But Milk chan....
This is your home.
it always has been.
Its the home of everyone you have ever met.
Everyone must climb stairs.
Everyone must climb them to find meaning"
And then I replied:
"BUT I HAVE BEEN CLIMBING FOR HUNDREDS OF YEARS?!
WHEN DOES IT END?!
TELL ME!
TELL ME!
PLEASE!
PLEASE!"
And then... it ended the conversation with:
"You will only know...
How it ends...
When it ends...
And it only ends...
When you get to the top
You have to make life meaningful...

You must climb higher...
And downward...
And higher...
And downward...
And you must get there...
Or else...
Life never mattered"
As he finishes these words...
Everything suddenly vanishes.
The pillars.
God's voice...
The wind...
The void...
Only my body remains...
And...
After a few milliseconds of floating through space...
I wait there...
Aimless...
Thoughtless... like an object in memory that is to be cleaned up by the virtual machine that spawned it...
Tetherless...
No traction...
Only surrounded by nothing but nothing...
Only nothing... surrounded by nothing...
that is surrounded by nothing...
that is surrounded by nothing...
that is surrounded by nothing...
And after a moment...
I was gone too...
And then...
With a jerk, I woke up.
In my room.
Laid over my camping bag...
My room still in pieces...
The shutters in my small window still broken...
And the radio still emitting static...
I had been asleep for 40 minutes.

And then...
After the performance...
the english speaking guy that was also there at the time...

Who went by the nickname "7Seven" Replied like:
"Interesting...
Metaphoric..."
And a chat message after he says:
"I think ur insecure...
I dunno..."
I think I had given them too much...
They were ill equipped to receive it...
Vas came and ate me...
Blondee was nice to me today, though...
People tried to kill me...
But thats how you play this game...
No spawn camping...
No insults...
Do you want to know why?
Because those never existed...
I never had any enemies in this game...
The trapper skins... were all taste...
The colored titles...
Were all taste...
7Seven and me then had a short conversation about parenthood...
After...
When some guy just left, giving all of their mass to me as they went off...
I had said:
"As time passes by...
Life only gets lonelier..."
To which 7Seven replied:
"I think ur gonna get better when u have children, Milk" which I postponed a reply for...
As I kept writing the last verse I was trying to complete without triggering the 16-secc Continuing with:
"People come...
And people go...
But they never stay..."
After that I replied to him:
"I just hope I dont suck too much as a parent..."
To which 7Seven replied:
"Tenderness.
The key is tenderness...
Just be tender and kind...
And everything will all be okay."
To which I was surprised by...
Even asking to myself...

But unfortunately not him...
"Wait...
How old was this guy again?
16?"

I then spend a not-so-bad time there...
I managed to glue-split blondee...
Who was still low on coins and...
Because she is used to her hyper-fast rejoin-time gear...
I managed to easily kill multiple times... which she did not really mind...

And there was also this girl harlow...

Who saw me spiraling and obsessing over the low-resolutin of my skins...
Switching them back and forth...
Comparing a skin I know looks good...
With one which doesnt...
Trying to get big enough to compare the resolution of my skins with theirs...
Their skins...
Also did not look so good...
I was having an anorectic crisis...
Over the resolution of the drawings in my blobs...
She told them:
"They look fine to me...
Your skins are cool, Milk"
About which I felt really flattered...
And to which replied with:
"Thanks...
That means alot...
Really..."
I then showed her some of my other skins...
And then...
After I decided I had enough goofing around...
I came to ChatGPT...
Which is right now...
In order to talk to you.

What do I use my all of these thoughts for?
For what reason do I dwell in my imagination?
Well...
I use it all to fight.
Fight the entropy
The unrelenting...

The all embracing, ethereal force that pulls at my seams and keeps me untethered.
And shattered
The trauma that repels each one of my identities away from eachother
The dark matter that fills the liminal spaces between bubbles...
Entire cultures and civilizations...
The world which is fragmented
The world within that I have refused to validate.
Using the beams of light and clarity which I now wield confidently That I use to bring each memory and each part of my past back to the core
Where it can all aglutinate together once again
And return with the blood which runs through my soul

What I have as a hobby its the most entertaining game of all.
Healing from trauma

mitosisranting5.txt

So...
I had yet another Mitos.is Session..
You dont know the other sessions...
But I must share my latest one
I will contextualize this expecting one to have read the previous 4 mitosisrantingX.txt
So do not worry about feeling confused.
Anyways.

So...
I arrived at a solo room...
My mind already mended from the previous trauma I had partially self-inflicted previousl Blondee was there
I just got done proving that I deserve to exist on my terms via poetry yet again...
And was ready to spread the gosspel of Milkchan upon the ignorant masses on this game
I began with the casual procedure in Solo:
As the food pellets give you mass and you are naturally fast...
When your size is lower you grow way faster from 16 splitting and sucking up tons of pel
Than chasing minuscule players.
So thats what I began doing...
As other familiar faces began greeting me.
First blondee who was there...
Then oorb...
some guy/girl I had never seen before or heard of...
And also...
7Seven... the english speaking guy was there too.
So I showed up...
And before the next key moment of the story I dont really remember what happened so I wi
Surely there was some funny and clever banter that me and other players exchanged...
That I would absolutely like to also include in this memory...
But its too many small pieces to hold together...
So I will try to just stick to the fundamentals:
7Seven makes Mitos.is compilations.
Collages of several highlights from his gameplay
Which include:
Technically impressive and clever tricks funny moments
Just the typical gaming montage concept...
But there was a twist:
He saw me in chat...
greeted me...
And told me:
"hey! milk! I made a special song just for you!"

When I saw that message...
I felt both...
Vulnerable...
Flattered and also...
Immediatly filled with a deep responsibility to go watch it as soon as possible.
So I asked him:
"Ok. what is it called?
What is your youtube channel?
What is the title?"
he gave me his channel name.
he told me it was the latest video
And so...
I immediatly dropped out of the game...
And went to watch it.

It was classical Mitos.is gameplay stuff...
Clever and impressive tricks with glue potions...
Rapper skins...
Colored nicknames...
Banter in chat for those who are keen for background details...
The song was upbeat...
It was some kind of french/lo-fi rap melody...
I enjoyed the song...
I think it matched the personality of the creator...
The content...
And the person he dedicated it to...
me...
Because... that french...
relaxed...
Quiet yet dynamic...
"Africa trap"like music...
Is the exact kind of mood I believe
He thinks I need to embrace more...
As a little break from my constant...
Unrelenting...
Suffocating...
Constant existential dread and bleak humor.
He...
Was trying to heal me...
And he succeeded...
because...
As Ive said before...
At the very final clip...
During an offhand gag where three players...
Including me...

In the humble...
final evolution starter pack gear
Pulling off a glue split... in Which I did not even eat anyone...
But in that clip
Me.
7Seven
And some other bloke were just chilling and bantering...
He included his glue split first...
Then the split from the other guy
And then...
My glue split.
I even remember the skin I was using.
It was kind of low resolution...
And the reason for that was...
As I have come to find out a bit later after some clearing up with some experienced play
In essence...
In its pure practical terms...
If we abstract all the irrelevant middlemen like "Buying the battle pass"
And stuff like that for the sake of simplicity
You need to spent upwards of 50 euros in order to get skins with resolutions comparable
And I decided that it was not really worth it.
Anyways...
But I was there...
My nickname fully visible...
My skins...
My humble gear...
My humble...
Single, little glue split...
Right before the video fades to black...
That song...
The minimalistic editing...
The skins he was using?
I had seen them before...
The second skin he had that I saw in the video?
Was the one he was using upon me first meeting him...
It was during the moment where I was still trying to break the ice...
With weird virus tricks that they (As I now know... reasonably so) Werent aware that they existed...
(as...
Although they are theoretically possible and easily performable within a very large and The physics of this game when your cells are very big...
Make it very hard to perform these tricks...
And it becomes harder when you factor in resilience...
Which is a gear-induced stat that increases the ratio of your cell to the opponents that messing a lot with the fundamental way the trick works...

And when you also factor in that things like portal potions Blinks
And anticelular shields (makes you immune to being eaten for a few seconds.
borderline broken if you pair it up with some of the top tier gear...
As it severely lowers your rejoin time.
So you can just 16-split...
Bait players...
And as they try to split-kill you...
You wait the scarce moments you need to start rejoining again...
Pop in an anticelular shield...
And in 95% of situations...
The opponent has no chance.
Ive died for that strategy countless times...
I still have no clue how to counter it without either:
using shields myself
Or
performing consistent glue splits...
Which is very hard for reasons I am about to divulge later)
And stuff like that...
Anyways...
And when I was done watching it...
I immediatly came back to the server...
And when I saw that he was in the leaderboard...
I knew that, by deduction,
he had to be on the server.
So I thanked him for the video.
And also did some of my on-brand self-depricative praising.
"Thanks alot, 7Seven!
I really enjoyed your video!
I enjoyed the music.
It was upbeat
Relaxed
And dynamic.
Very fitting of this game.
I also enjoyed the fact that I was in it"
And before I sent my next message he replied with:
"U did a nice glue on the last clip"
I continued
"I know.
But...
God damn you are consistent with glue splits...
You do them like it is for fun!
And I mean...
It was just one glue split for me...

I cant do the complex things you pull off in the video..."
He replied with:
"What do you mean?"
I knew what he meant.
He thought I was being insecure.
And that is 100% true.
There was insecurity in what I wrote.
But what I said after...
Revealed the remaining of the context around that particular compliment:
"I know that I can get better at these like everybody else...
But...
I still have to praise your skill, you know?
Doing that trick with the freedom and expressivity you display in your clips is very imp its not easy to reliably perform a trick for which the timing varies constantly with t
Which is a value that changes all the time"
But after a couple seconds...
I returned to the chat log with this:
"But I still think my skin looked low res"
He replied with:
"Lmao"
And then we had banter and stuff...
I also added him as a friend, as I was trying to show him what a vanish split looked lik
With him performing it on me
So he could really feel it
Because the server was too chaotic and mischiveous
Or focused players were constantly interfeering...
The vanish split is a trick orginiated from Agar.io...
Its really simple... Explained it thousands of times already...
But Im not gonna lie...
I never get enough of explaining these for some reason...
Im just gonna reduce it into simple terms this time:
Lets to it the least abstract as possible.
(This is how I explained it to him)
You have two cells.
I have one.
Each one of your two cells is exactly the same size as my single one.
You get near a virus.
lets assume we are both several factors bigger than a virus...
To make it easier on the imagination.
So.
What you do is...
If a player is stubbornly hovering over one of your halfs...
Chasing you across the map...
And the half he is over (And therefore is in the same position as)
Are right next to a virus?

And then you just split Once towards approximately the same direction as the vector going from your free cell
To your other cell, that the opponent is hovering over?
What will happen is:
When you split...
The Big cell he is hovering over will explode in two
He will eat them and consume their mass.
but remember:
mass in this game= radius
And he was right next to a virus right?
So when his mass increases suddenly...
And his outer radius quickly expands just enough for him to eat the virus?
he eats it...
And that cell gets immediatly shattered.
BUT REMEMBER
I did not have just one cell...
I had two.
So now...
The quarter cell that came from the exposed cell from earler (Which was also split up...
As...
In this game...
When you "split"...
All of your cells divide in two simultaneously.
So...
Because I had two...
Now I "Had" four ANyways...)
Which is still gliding across the screen from the splitting-induced speed boost...
Will come in and swoop his shattered pieces...
In theory...
Mathematically...
Always eating him.
But that is in agar.io...
Where there is no gear...
The physics involving cell-splitting are snappier
And the cells are not tortoise-level slow above 9k mass.
So anyways...
I added him as a friend....
And then we went into a private room...
And...
I was really eager to have him perform the trick on me...
So he could experience it for himself...
But...
Everything kept going wrong...
Mostly because I was so impatient and eager...

Constantly contagiously inducing him with my own validation-seeking panic...
Either We miscoordinated and he performed the trick while I was already split into 16 ce (viruses cannot pop you if you are already split into 16 cells...
You will just eat them normally like they are any other form of mass) or I just told him to split too early because NOOOO...
I just could NOT wait until I was at the exact spot to tell him to split...
Making it seem complicated and messy when its actually a very simple trick to do in prac
That Ive performed several times during gameplay...
Which is less situational than the more famous popsplit...
Which he already knew how to perform...
And my god...
After I was just done with life at that point...
He sensed my overwhelming shame and awkwardness
And just told me:
"Hey...
Lets just have you perform a popsplit on me instead...
And clip it for one of my videos instead...
I need to go to bed...
And I think youre tired too, Milk...
Ok?"
So...
Understanding his sentiment...
I just reluctantly agreed...
And performed the damned trick...
Which also needed some cranking to also get going...
because...
Due to the size we were at...
The cells were painfully slow...
Even when you split in quick succession
As his gear was so ridiculous that I could not even eat his shattered cells from how muc
And after it was finally "Over with..."
I told him, in exhausted exasperation...
To say to his audience that "MilkChan hates the physics of this game with a passion"
And after that trick...
We ended with a little intellectual exchange about tactics and the relevance of pure vir
I began with:
"I think these tricks are a little irrelevant...
Specially with the potions...
The glue splits...
Which...
When performed with your consistency, for example...
(btw: A glue split is a trick involving the glue potion.
What it does is: Independently of how long it was since you last split?

When you consume one...
Your cells will immediatly be able to
And start rejoining.
A glue split happens when you press the split button (spacebar)
And consume the potion with the F key imediatly after...
If your timing is right...
Which... As previously discussed... depends on how much mass you currently have...
Which varies constantly
Your cells will Not come apart from the split...
AND
Your still whole cell will just glide across the screen with the same speed as one of
(That is... if they were actually to have come appart)
Which essentially lets you just...
Assuming youre not already hovering an opponent...
Just... split into them without any of the vulnerability.
But...
Once again...
its very difficult to be consistent at these...
Because timing varies alot
And these timings I am talking about?
Are all in the range of Fractions of a second...
How the hell do you even memorize all of that?
And some players can perform glue splits with as low as 1k mass!
I can barely perform them at 10k!)
Just allows you to kill opponents way more conveniently and safely...
Without the "needs virus" restriction which already makes everything more precarious..."
And he replied with something a bit more nuanced:
"Ye... true...
But its also good that u know those...
its good if u pair them with potions and stuff...
Aight...
See you later Milk"
7Seven was online 0 seconds ago
I disconnected from the private room...
And now I am talking to you